CIO as a Service – Your strategic IT leadership

Senior IT leadership on demand. Flexible, impact-driven, immediately available

In today's digital economy, IT is a critical success factor. Strong IT leadership is essential to enable efficient operations, drive innovation, and align technology with business goals. But what happens when a CIO or Head of IT role is vacant or when additional leadership capacity is required at short notice?
CIO as a Service provides you with immediate access to experienced IT executives who take responsibility, create stability, and move your IT forward – without long-term commitments.

Why CIO as a Service

Immediate Impact
An experienced interim CIO steps in quickly, closes leadership gaps, and ensures continuity - exactly for as long as you need.

Business Focus
Your IT is professionally managed and stabilized, freeing up time and attention for your core business and strategic priorities.

Strategic Momentum
We refine your IT strategy, support reorganizations, and introduce fresh ideas that accelerate innovation and digital transformation.

External Perspective
Benefit from an objective outside view, proven best practices, and new impulses for sustainable improvement.

Flexible Engagement Model
From strategic advisory to full operational leadership – precisely tailored to your requirements.

Enablement & Knowledge Transfer
Your internal IT team is strengthened through targeted coaching and structured know-how transfer.

Professional Change Management
Transformations are guided professionally, ensuring clarity, alignment, and acceptance across the organization.

How it works

1. Initial Consultation
We discuss your current situation, challenges, and goals in a non-binding initial conversation.

2. Role & scope definition
Together, we define responsibilities, priorities, and the optimal engagement model—strategic, operational, or hybrid.

3. Execution by experienced CIOs
Our CIOs and Heads of IT bring years of leadership experience. They stabilize operations, advance your IT strategy, and successfully deliver transformation initiatives.
If required, they also support the recruitment of a permanent CIO—from role definition to candidate selection.

4. Structured handover
At the end of the engagement, we ensure a smooth transition with clear recommendations and knowledge transfer.

When is CIO as a Service the right choice?

Vacancy or absence in IT Leadership
Access maximum IT expertise exactly when and in the scope required – without long-term fixed costs.

New momentum and innovation
Actively shape and accelerate the development and implementation of a future-oriented IT strategy.

Ensure stable leadership during transformations
Securely steer reorganizations and change initiatives – even when temporary external leadership is required.

Provide targeted coaching for IT leaders
Support development, strengthen leadership capabilities, and assist in recruitment and filling key positions.

Optimize IT costs in a targeted way
Leverage benchmarking, smart sourcing strategies, and efficient process optimization.

Strengthen business–IT alignment
Ensure that IT is fully aligned with the business units and their business processes and the corporate objectives.

Ready to move forward?

Take the opportunity to systematically develop your IT and optimally position your organization for the future. An interim CIO delivers fresh ideas, extensive experience, and immediate relief – flexible, professional, and tailored to your individual requirements.
